FireLake Casino

expansion opens to large crowds

Seven months of construction, renovation, and assembly of gaming machines is finished. Gamers from across Oklahoma and neighboring states are enjoying a major expansion of gaming space at the Citizen Potawatomi Nation's FireLake Casino.

The $7 million-plus investment means more variety for gamers, some 150 additional jobs for Shawnee and an opportunity for the CPN to earn more "seed money" for business ventures and to support its government programs.

In October 2002, the Citizen Potawatomi Nation removed its Bowling Center equipment from the 21,000-square foot area in the east end of its FireLake Casino building. That space is now occupied by 470 casino gaming machines and 12 Tournament Blackjack tables.

The casino now has a total of about 680 gaming machines. There are around 150 machines in the previous casino area. And, additional gaming machines were added in the Bingo hall, allowing customers to play Bingo and machine games simultaneously.

Linda Canada, FireLake Casino manager, is excited by the expansion and the opportunities it represents. "I've been here for 11 years; I've seen it grow from a Bingo hall to the small casino to the big, beautiful casino," Canada said. "It's exciting, I love it!"

Remodeled FireLake Entertainment Center

Assistant manager Jonas Jacobs has been at FireLake for six years. "We have a beautiful casino now, four times the size of what we had," he said.

Leadership/Internship Program

offers look at tribal functions

Several Citizen Potawatomi Nation tribal members will have an opportunity to invest eight weeks of their summer in learning more about tribal operations while earning money for school expenses along with three hours of transferable college credit.

Tribal officials have announced the Potawatomi Leadership Program. The initial session, to be held in the summer of 2003, will be open to tribal members who will be high school seniors or college freshmen in the 2003-04 academic year.

PLP interns will arrive in Shawnee the final week in June. During that week, they will assist in final preparations for the annual CPN Family Reunion Festival.

The next six weeks, the interns will rotate among Potawatomi Nation tribal government departments. Their charge will be to observe the interaction among the various departments and to assist with assigned tasks.

"We need to develop our pool of talent, to include all tribal members, not just those in Oklahoma," said Jeremy Finch, CPN Cultural Resources director. Finch, who was the Potawatomi Nation's Southern California Regional Director for 10 years, designed the PLP and will oversee it.

Finch said the leadership program will begin to address an information or perception gap. "There is a lack of knowledge about how fully modern our administrative operations are," he said. "The PLP will bring in tribal members

New dining adventure available in Shawnee

As summer approaches, Shawnee area diners are discovering a new opportunity to challenge their palettes. Loretta Barrett Oden, a nationally known American Indian chef/food historian, has opened her new Corn Dance Cafe at FireLake.

The Corn Dance Cafe is located atop the Citizen Potawatomi Nation's FireLake Golf Course pro shop. Balcony diners are treated to a vista with lush greens, trees, abundant geese and frustrated duffers.

The menu is inspired by indigenous foods. It includes fruits, veg

The People of the Fire

*In a time when greed and the lust
for evil,
Plague our land,
A fire burns in my heart,
The light of love and freedom,
In the love of Almighty God, Beckons me, like a light amidst the darkness.
From my heart, this fire is a light of vision and hope.
We are a people,
And our heritage is not lost in time,
The light of glory, yet reflects from our fathers,
And this testimony, shines before us.
I know of priesthood,
The holy order of Christ,
And of a promise made unto us.
We are a chosen people in a chosen land.
The years are as leaves, fallen in winter,
But kept in the heart of God.
His promise was unto our fathers,
In the glory of their joy,
And unto their posterity.
Through your heart, the manna of your soul,
And feel these words of glory.*

Corn Dance:

New Cafe Features Native Foods

etables and grains native to North, Central and South America. Game meats and American Indian-inspired desserts complete the offerings.

American Bison (Buffalo) meat is featured. Oden described buffalo as "the way beef would love to taste." She said it is not gamy, is very lean and sweet, and is lower in fat and cholesterol than turkey breast.

"Corn Dance diners have been very pleasantly surprised. It is not scary; it's fun! It really is not that exotic," Oden said.

"Corn, beans, squash, tomatoes - all the things that have been grown here for so very long but haven't been credited to their proper origins" are found in many Corn Dance Cafe dishes.

"For instance, the potato is not Irish; the tomato is not Italian," Oden said.

The restaurant seats 170, with a private dining room that can accommodate 10 to 12. "Our goal is to offer a total dining experience," she said. "We have enough room for leisurely dining. I want The Corn Dance Cafe to become a Shawnee tradition," Oden added.

She described the restaurant's atmosphere as white tablecloth and a little upscale, but added that casual attire is appropriate.

The Corn Dance menu also includes

Oden's Little Big Pies, a pizza-like dish of air-baked flatbread that is topped with items ranging from Portobello mushrooms to barbecued buffalo.

It is Oden's "un-frybread."

"We have a children's menu featuring kid-friendly dishes with funny names," Oden said. Humor plays a role throughout the menu, which contains such dishes as the "General Custard in a Little Big Horn" and "Chief Wampanoogie's Elbows-n-Cheese."

"It must be fun, or it's not worth doing," she said.

Over the past decade, Loretta Barrett Oden has gained a national following through frequent media and culinary event appearances. For example, viewers of NBC's Today show awoke the day before Thanksgiving 2002 to a treat - a chance to learn about and how to prepare traditional American Indian foods for their holiday meal.

Oden dispensed the advice. Interviewer Ann Curry introduced the segment saying, "Before the Pilgrims celebrated the first Thanksgiving, Native Americans grew and harvested the food that influenced the holiday meal, as we know it today."

Oden credited "my grandmothers, my mom, my aunt" with teaching her about Indian foods and sparking an early interest in cooking.

"The kitchen is the place where we learn," Oden added. "Our culture, as any culture, is really about food."

Oden is one of the forces spearheading a Native foods renaissance. In addition to the Today Show appearance, she is filming a 13-part series, "Seasoned with Spirit - A Native Chef's Journey with Loretta Barrett Oden." The series is being produced by Seattle's PBS station (KCTS-TV) and Native American Public Telecommunications.

She is writing a companion cookbook with recipes she calls, "pre-Columbian and creative Native."

She is also a featured chef and Vining legacy artist in residence at Copia: The American Center for Wine, Food and The Arts in Napa Valley, founded by vintner Robert Mondavi and Julia Child. As such, she headlines Copia's Native cuisines dinners and demonstrations every October.

"I defy the stereotypical fry bread and mutton stew image of Indian foods," Oden says. "Native American people suffer the highest rate of diabetes on the planet. Our menu addresses many of these issues in a lusciously healthful manner."

"Food is the common denominator of all cultures," she adds. "I'm trying to heighten people's awareness that our indigenous peoples are as incredibly diverse as are the foods of the Americas."

Corn Dance Cafe patrons will encounter additional cultural experiences. Oden's own collection of Native art adorns the walls. She offers artists the opportunity to display their work.

Diners are treated to Native American music from Oden's extensive collection; she will host live entertainers and craft demonstrations.

"The Corn Dance Cafe is going to be ever-evolving, ever-changing," she said.

M A I L B A G

Dear Mr. 'Rocky' Barrett,

My name is Elizabeth Bagley, and I am a tribal member. I am 22 years old and about to graduate college with a B.S. in Elementary Education.

I had the pleasure of representing our tribe this past summer in Washington. I was part of the WINS (Washington Internships for Native Students) program.

In Washington, I worked for the Bureau of Indian Affairs in their Department of Education and Office of Indian Education Programs. While there, I wrote a children's alphabet book about Native Americans. My mother did all the illustrations. This book is in the process of being published.

I am sending you a copy of the OIEP annual letter that they sent out this summer. I am on the second page.

I thought you would like to know what the young people of the tribe are doing to better the Native Community.

Sincerely,
Elizabeth Bagley
Maitland, FL

(Editor's note - The OIEP newsletter reported: "Elizabeth is one of the four interns working for the Bureau of Indian Affairs, Office of Indian Education Programs this summer in Washington, D.C. She is 22 years old and was born and raised in Orlando, Florida. During the school year, Elizabeth is a student at the University of Central Florida located in Orlando, Florida, where she is majoring in Elementary Education. Elizabeth achieved this internship through a program called the WINS program. WINS stands for Washington Internships for Native Students. Elizabeth herself is part of the Potawatomi Tribe of Oklahoma. After all is said and done this summer, Elizabeth is hoping to leave feeling that she has a better understanding of what the BIA does and how the government of this great nation really works, as well.")

We want to thank the Citizen Potawatomi Nation for its assistance in our time of need. We haven't been able, in our later years, to maintain and keep up a home. We are in our retirement years and not able to work for income to take care of all our needs.

Because my wife Deloris is an enrolled member of the Citizen Potawatomi Nation, we contacted the Potawatomi Nation for housing assistance. They came to our aid, providing a new home for us that we might enjoy in our later years.

Everyone at the housing authority has been so gracious and pleasant to deal with. We want to thank all of them, especially Mr. Bob Carlile and Mr. Gary Russ, for being so nice and pleasant and so helpful. Of course, the ladies who work there are very pleasant and professional and deserve to be commended. We would also like to use this means to thank the personnel at the Elders Nutrition Site for the Citizen Potawatomi Nation, especially Mrs. Denise Smith, Elder Programs Director, and Tammy Welbourne, the caregiver coordinator, for always being so helpful in many ways. Of course, all of the personnel in the Title VI Program should be commended for jobs well done.

We thank all of you all so much for all that you do for us and we know the Lord will bless you. We love you as Christians.

Deloris and T.J. Lamirand

Dear Editor,

Since you often run pictures requesting if anyone can identify the individuals (in the photo), I was hoping that you might consider starting a continuing column where tribal members can make contact with each other to research their family roots.

I am currently researching my Peltier family. My great-great-grandfather was Alexander Peltier. He had four daughters - Alice, Caroline, Clarissa, and Catherine.

I am hoping that there is a Peltier genealogist who would contact me at TillDolly@msn.com.

Thank you,

Dear Mr. Clark,

I wanted to thank you and the Citizen Potawatomi Nation Scholarship Foundation for your generous award this spring of $300.00 towards my seminary education. Your support has made it possible for me to attend Perkins. I cannot tell you how much I appreciate this generous gift. Thank you so much!

Dear Charles Clark:

I just wanted to write you a quick note to tell you how much I appreciate the scholarship that I received. Every little bit helps when you are trying to work full-time and go to school full-time.

My grandmother was a part of the Potawatomi Tribe, which makes me part of it. I would really like to learn more about my background. I am taking a Native Peoples of North America course in school right now, and find it very interesting. Once again thank you for your help.

Sincerely,

Scholarship Committee:

Well it has finally happened. I have reached the final semester of my bachelors degree program. In May of this year, 2003, I will participate in the commencement services here at Point Loma Nazarene University, San Diego. I will have completed a degree in Business Administration with a minor in Economics that I never thought was not possible.

With the past four years of financial support from the Potawatomi Nation Scholarship Program, I have now accomplished my dream of a higher education. My degree has given me the capabilities to be successful in the business world and in today's marketplace. I have learned the importance of helping others when they are in need, and I thank you for helping me during my financial need throughout my college career.

During the next few years following college I will pursue a job in the financial community. I will be looking for ways to help people get through this time of economic recession and the possibility of war without reaching bankruptcy. I am confident in my abilities to help other people in need and allow them to share in my success for they are the measure of my success.

Your investment in my life has not only benefited me in my search for higher education but others I will come in contact with because of my degree. So, I thank you once again for your consistent involvement in my education and for investing your resources in me to in turn invest in the lives of others.

Thank you,

Tribal Member Helps Design Smithsonian Exhibit

"producing perfectly designed knives, swords, daggers and points"

True artists have an aura. Dale Cannon, a Citizen Potawatomi Nation member with more than a passing resemblance to Willie Nelson, presents that feel.

Cannon is a true master at flake-over grinding, producing perfectly designed knives, swords, daggers and points with alternate flakes.

His work demonstrates both a mastery of technique and a level of artistry that can only be attributed as a gift from God.

The Smithsonian Institution has acknowledged his work, inviting Cannon to Washington D.C. to help design a flintknapping exhibit for its new National Museum of the American Indian.

In June 2002, he sat in on meetings with curators, designers, and others to brainstorm the best way to display the museum's vast collection of Indian artifacts. The Smithsonian will also display some of Cannon's stone knives in the exhibit.

Set to open on Washington's Mall in 2004, the museum will hold exhibitions of the life, language, literature, history, and arts of the native peoples of the western hemisphere. The museum will be used as a "center for ceremonies, performances, educational programs and exhibition space for Indian arts, history, and material culture." Flintknapping will be featured as one of the Indian arts.

The Flintknapping exhibit will begin as a study collection. Study collections aim to bring as many of the Smithsonian's collections' objects as possible into public view.

Cannon assisted the museum on ways to install the objects to show them from across the hemisphere and also across time.

Cannon realizes the importance of seeing the face behind the object. "My grandfather was one-half Potawatomi," he said. "But that's not why I (knap). I was out in California in 1990 visiting my brother who collected arrowheads. I went with him to look for artifacts, and found an arrowhead within fifteen minutes. I found myself face-to-face with a prehistoric (artifact). I came to grips with the person who made it. My brother showed me the basics and I became obsessed. I stopped fishing and hunting and just wanted to do this."

Among his duties at the Smithsonian, Cannon was filmed demonstrating flake-over grinding techniques for a potential touch screen video for the exhibit. The Smithsonian wants its visitors to know that people like Cannon still flintknap. Even the staff at the museum didn't realize the numbers of people who still flintknap.

"There is a renaissance in the flintknapping world right now," Cannon said. He estimates that 5,000 western people are currently involved in it. Most have had to learn the craft from each other, as the native peoples did not pass down the skills across generations of their own, much less to white man.

And what he's learned, he has been eager to pass on to others. In addition to his videos, he has done flintknapping demonstrations for hundreds of people including judges, billionaires, teachers, homeless people, anyone who wants to learn.

The Smithsonian kept two of his pieces when he visited, and is currently approving the purchase of six to eight more. They want a variety of sizes, shapes and materials, from miniature knives two-to-three inches long, up to a 24-inch, sword-type dagger.

Cannon reports that sales have increased and he has seen more interest for his work in the art market. Meantime, he travels to shows and knap-ins, does lectures and demonstrations, and continues to create beautiful pieces in jasper, marble, and other material.

Cannon will travel back to the Smithsonian in 2004 to do live demonstrations near the exhibit that houses his work. He has been humbled to see his talents rewarded in this way. "To have the Smithsonian verify me, it's a strange feeling. I am so honored and so pleased to have other people emulate my style and my work."

To see his work or to order knives or videos, visit Cannon's Web site at www.futureartifacts.com.

CPN Internship Opportunity

of the internship in the Employment and Training Program computer lab, writing an essay detailing their experience in PLP. They will present that essay to the Business Committee and to assembled tribal members at the next Regional Meeting in their region.

In addition to the three hours of college transferable credit, the interns will earn a minimum wage salary for their eight weeks. From that, they will pay certain expenses, including transportation to and from Shawnee and a weekly stipend.

Upon successful completion of the program, what remains in each student's account will be paid out, to the student and a parent or guardian.

PLP participants will live in a dormitory at SGU, affording them the opportunity to experience college life.

The Citizen Potawatomi Nation has appropriated funds for this program from enterprise profits. The SGU housing costs will be paid for from CPN Housing Authority funds.

Finch says he especially hopes to attract tribal members from outside Oklahoma; however, the PLP is open to qualifying tribal members from within the state.

To qualify, the prospective intern must have a current 3.0 grade point average.

To apply, the prospective PLP participant need only fill out and return a one-page application that is on the Internet at www.Potawatomi.org.

The Nation has also mailed applications to the approximately 1,800 tribal members who are 16 through 19 years old.

The application deadline for this first session of the Potawatomi Leadership Program is June 10, 2003.

An essay written by the student must accompany the application. Finch said the essay can be one written especially for application for PLP or one written on any topic by the student at any time in the past.

Finch said his fondest hope is that, at some time in the future, a Citizen Potawatomi Nation elected official will point out with pride that he or she participated in the PLP as a teen.

"The Potawatomi Leadership Program is designed to educate, inform, and encourage qualified Potawatomi students to consider employment at the CPN as a positive career move," Finch said.

"We also hope to develop within the membership at large a more accurate perception of the tribe and its operations. An additional benefit is that the program is designed to inspire qualified tribal members to aspire to tribal leadership."

Finch credited St. Gregory's administrators for being open to the program and working hard to make it happen. "They have welcomed the presence of the PLP participants on their campus," he said. "And, they will administer the transferable college credit aspect of the program."

LAW, FAMILY, AND SERVICE

These are the pillars of the Potawatomi community - and the principles I will fight for as a member of the Business Committee. I support a new constitution for a new age for our tribe. However, it should be a constitution for ALL Potawatomi.

Two key sections of the current constitutional draft proposal will not advance the general interests of the tribe. First, Article VIII, Section I, B2 vests far too much spending authority in the tribal chairman or his designee. Second, Article XV, Section I places the operation of the tribal newspaper, the How-Ni-Kan, under the SOLE discretion of the tribal chairman.

In each case, the tribe is better served by vesting authority among more people and among several institutions, as is the case in our own federal government of checks and balances. As your Business Committee representative, I will fight to improve these constitutional provisions by giving the Business Committee more oversight of spending decisions and by creating an independent oversight board for the How-Ni-Kan, with the responsibility for picking its editor.

I have committed my life to serving my family, (my wife Romona, son Jason, daughter-in-law Devra and granddaughter Madalynne) and, for the past 18 years, my tribe. I believe this experience makes me the right person to continue to lead the Potawatomi into a new, cooperative age.

With a constitution that balances and protects the rights and privileges of ALL tribal members, the Potawatomi future will be bright. Give me the opportunity to help make that future. Give me the opportunity to serve you again on the tribal Business Committee.

Expansion Includes Table Games

Canada calls addition of table games, such as Tournament Blackjack, something exciting and new for FireLake customers. "We'll have different machines (in the remainder of the casino) than we've had before," she added.

According to Jacobs, some of the new games, while being Class II-legal, will give the look, feel and excitement of games in full-blown casinos.

The addition will improve customers' comfort, also. "We've added a luxury non-smoking area," Jacobs said. A new system will exchange air in the entire casino seven times each hour to improve tobacco smoke removal.

Canada and Jacobs are proud of the top-notch level of customer service that dealers, floor workers and other FireLake Casino employees deliver. "We do everything we can to please customers and keep them in a comfortable atmosphere," Canada said.

An example is the fact that new gaming machines at FireLake have a playing face closer to the floor. "That's so the customer does not have to jump up on a tall stool to play," Canada explained. "They are sitting in a chair, with their feet on the floor, playing in a comfortable position."

Improvements have not been limited to retro-fitting the former bowling area for gaming. The outside of the casino has been repainted a light brown to match the neighboring FireLake Discount Foods and the CPN tribal administration building, located a few hundred yards away.

Renovations and updating are continuing in the FireLake Casino's off-track betting parlor and Bingo hall. The OTB area is being enlarged by 800 square feet. Something new for OTB patrons is a station that allows them to follow horse races and participate in casino-style games at the same time.

"A portion of the existing casino has been converted into an extremely nice area featuring individual gaming carrels and betting stations," Jacobs said. "We have new furniture, new chairs, new paint."

Improvements extend into the FireLake Casino parking lot. It has been significantly increased in size. In addition, traffic control has been improved to decrease the possibility of accidents.

Five music acts and a magic/comedy team helped the Citizen Potawatomi Nation welcome large crowds to a grand opening celebration on Saturday, May 17. Spike and Hammer, the comedy/magic act, performed from a stage and strolled among tables. The duo offered sleight-of-hand and card tricks, giving patrons an opportunity to experience them up-close.

The bands, including the fast-rising country act Rushlow, performed from a stage on the casino grounds on Saturday. Billy Dean, who has earned Country Music awards and had several hits, also entertained.

The remainder of the musical lineup included Harvey and the Wallbangers, a 'rock nostalgia' act from Oklahoma City that also performs many original tunes, and the bands Time Machine and Superfreak.

The music area was set up in a manner that prevented the music's clashing with gamers' enjoyment.

On Saturday night, Kenneth Youngblood, of Tecumseh, won a Chevy Silverado in a drawing and Bill Loftis, a CPN tribal member, won a bass boat.

Jacobs reminded gamers that there are many other activities available near FireLake Casino, which is at the intersection of Hardesty Road and South Gordon Cooper Drive in south Shawnee.

The new Corn Dance Cafe, operated by world-renowned Native American chef Loretta Barrett Oden, is open within sight of the casino. FireLake Discount Foods is just a few hundred feet from the casino. FireLake Golf Course, one of the top public courses in Oklahoma, is little more than a long tee shot from the gaming area.

Constitutional Awareness

Vice Chairman Capps

One of the most valuable lessons that I have learned as a leader of the Citizen Potawatomi Nation is the importance of the constitution. The constitution is the guiding light for the leaders of our Nation and must be consulted on an ongoing basis; it is the backbone of our governmental process. When we are in need of legal and professional guidance, the constitution often holds the answer to the proper path we are obligated to pursue. It is amazing how many answers to our numerous problems are found in the constitution. It addresses our name, objectives, membership, tribal jurisdiction, the council, the executive officers, the business committee, and the courts, to name a few. Actually, there are 21 Articles included in the main body of the constitution and additional articles that address the federal corporation chartered under the Act of June 26, 1936. The constitution has served us thus far, but to effectively serve the numbers and varied locations of our Tribal members, our constitution is in need of revision and change.

My tenure as the Vice Chairman of the Citizen Potawatomi Nation since 1990 has been inspirational and rewarding. I want to thank our Tribal members who have supported me in my role as the second highest elected official of this great Nation. Our administration, under the leadership of Chairman John A. Barrett, has experienced some great accomplishments during this time. We have grown from approximately 180 employees to about 640. This same growth has been manifested in our Tribal membership, the number of enterprises that we own, and the numerous facilities that we maintain. Although some growing pains have occurred, all in all, the growth has had a positive outcome for the Citizen Potawatomi Nation.

In 1977, as the first Coordinator of the Indian Education Program for Tecumseh Schools, I remember that a representative of the Citizen Potawatomi Tribe called and said the Tribe had one (perhaps two) scholarships available for Tribal members.

There may have been a few other schools in the area that received a similar call, but we show no record of scholarships for that time period. Our earliest record indicates that 76 scholarships were awarded in 1988 for a total of $17,000. A significant contrast is the fall of 2002, which yielded 343 Tribal scholarships for a total of $100,750.35. During the 2003 spring semester, 283 student were awarded scholarships for a total of $82,485.95. Beginning in the fall of 2003, the scholarship amounts will be increased from $300 up to $500 per semester for full time students and from $250 to $400 per semester for part-time students. The housing allowance will increase from $450 to $675 per semester. Along with more scholarships, our Nation is providing more services to our youth and our elders. We are active in assisting Tribal members with closing costs and down payment grants for housing loans and refinancing. We are providing all enrolled Tribal members with a $1,000 death benefit. The health aids program is presently being reviewed for expanding the enrollment date to include more Tribal members. And, of course, we are continually trying to expand our economic base beyond gaming in order to ensure future economic stability.

Where do we go from here? One thing for sure is that we have to amend our Nation's constitution in order to make the governmental process even more effective. We need more representation from our regional areas. We need more defined guidelines for the division between the executive and the legislative branches of our government. We need to get more young people involved to assist with the future growth process of our Nation. Please take a conscientious look at the proposed constitutional changes and help this administration to further promote the general welfare of the Citizen Potawatomi Nation. You will have an opportunity within the next year to help make a positive impact by voting for a new constitutional change. Do not wait until the last minute...begin with the awareness of your current constitution so you can make a more informed decision.

I look forward to seeing many of you during the festival. Until then, may God bless and keep you.

Doris Margaret Johnson Aalto

Doris Margaret Johnson Aalto, a tribal member descending from Charlotte Vieux, born to Kate and David Johnson in Shawnee, OK August 27, 1931, passed from this life on March 19, 2003. She was diagnosed with lung cancer in November of 2002, saw her family through Thanksgiving, Christmas and Dad's birthday, then, when the time was just right, surrounded by her family at home, she walked - or possibly danced - on gracefully. A memorial service with about 250 friends and family members was held at the Cornerstone Community Church of the Brethren in Reedley on March 29. It was followed by a traditional Potawatomi fire ceremony at the homeplace in Parlier, California, with her brothers David and Richard Johnson presiding. Her other surviving sibling is her sister Donice.

Doris is survived by her husband of 54 years, Arnold Aalto, son Waine, daughters Arnelle Work and Sharon Sparks and their families, including 10 grandchildren and 8 great-grandchildren. She is remembered by her friends and family for being a great cook, a fun-loving golfer and bowler, an unbeatable card player, and a generous, hospitable, hard-working champion of life.

Vote Jim Snow

Business Committee Position 2

Hard-Working, Committed, A Strong Leader, Honest

A devoted husband, father, son and brother.

An active member of the community as a farmer and business owner.

A concerned friend and neighbor to Citizen Potawatomi Nation members across the United States.

Someone who cares for the future of our children, our elders, and our tribe.

My name is B.A. Peltier. I would like to take this opportunity to answer some of the questions that some of our Citizen Potawatomi members are asking as to why Mr. Jimmy Snow wants to run for our Business Committee.

There are several reasons that I can give you.

When Mr. Barrett was first elected as our chairman, John Schoeman had appointed me as the first Chief of Police for our Indian nation. I was a little skeptical about Mr. Barrett, to say the least.

But, after watching his performance for the past 18 to 20 years, I have to say that, as our chairman, he has brought us from a trailer house on the hill to what we have now.

Just look around! Mr. Barrett and his staff have worked hard and put up with our petty politics. Still, he makes every effort to increase our land base and create exceptional businesses and jobs for the people in this area.

I have known Mr. Jim Snow, his wife Jeralyn and his daughter Jordyn most of his life. He is a devoted father and will make a professional, competent and dedicated Business Committeeman for Position Two.

Mr. Snow is interested in helping our young children get a better education and creating a better environment in our area. Also, he is very interested in updating our constitution.

As with any form of government, we cannot stand still; we must go forward with the best people that we can get.

Mr. Snow's qualifications are that he is a successful cattle rancher and businessman in this area. He is extremely interested in promoting better water for all the people in this area. He has worked for at least seven years with wayward children. He has been a member of the Baptist church all his life.

So, please vote for Jim Snow, as we need a change. Your vote is critical.

DOCTOR'S NOTES

Greetings from the employees and staff at the CPN Health Services clinic. We hope you and the members of your family are well.

In this edition of "Doctor's Notes," I want to describe a number of initiatives we have implemented in recent months to make it easier for our patients to get an appointment and to improve and expand the services we provide our growing patient population.

Earlier this year, we recruited Dr. Valerie Moreland, M. D., to staff our Employee Health Department to care for CPN employees who use the clinic, and to help see patients who require short notice appointments due to unexpected illness or injury. In addition to performing her routine clinical duties, Dr. Moreland was recently certified to perform colposcopies in order to enhance our ability to assess cervical anomalies promptly and without the need for inconvenient referrals to external providers.

Dr. Moreland's presence has broadened our scope of practice, and it has given us a great deal of additional flexibility to respond to our patients' needs.

Late in the summer of 2002, Dr. Hugh Ann Snyder, D.D.S., and Ms. Connie Dockery, Registered Dental Hygienist, joined the CPNHS Dental Department. Dr. Snyder and Ms. Dockery will specifically treat the unique dental issues of our diabetic patients.

By focusing exclusively on caring for diabetics, Dr. Snyder and Ms. Dockery are making significant inroads in improving the overall health status of this segment of our patient population. They have become an indispensable part of our comprehensive diabetic treatment program.

I know I don't have to tell you that diabetes mellitus is a truly serious health issue for Native Americans. Our Public Health Department staff has worked diligently this past year to implement a program devoted to minimizing its effects.

Ms. Loretta Miller, R.N., the CPNHS Public Health Coordinator inaugurated a diabetic register to help us track the care given to our diabetics and a mailing program for notifying them when certain interventions are due.

Dr. Kevin O'Brien

I am convinced the answer to successful treatment of diabetes mellitus, especially Type 2 diabetes, is aggressive self-management coupled with regular and frequent supervision by health care professionals. Ms. Miller's mailing program is designed to make these things a reality and it is working even better than I had hoped.

In July, Ms. Christi Olsen, Registered Dietician, joined the CPNHS staff to provide full-time nutrition counseling for all CPNHS diabetics and other patients in need of this service. Ms. Olsen will also provide the professional expertise needed to plan and implement world-class nutrition and life choice programs.

Ms. Myra McKiddy, R. N., recently traveled to Jackson, Mississippi, where she received formal training in foot care and wound management in patients with circulatory problems and nerve damage in their lower extremities. Ms. McKiddy's goal, in addition to performing foot care for her patients, is to train them to self-manage their condition in order to reduce infection which can result in amputation.

These are just a few of the things we have done to achieve our goal of making your clinic more accessible to you, and more responsive to your health care needs. Here are a few things you can do to help us reach this goal.

First, when possible, please use the appointment system to schedule your visits. I know you can't know ahead of time when you will be ill, but call us before you come in so that we can work you into the schedule. Coordinating your visit prior to your arrival will give us time to make sure you receive the care you need as quickly as possible. And, it will usually help you avoid the long wait you might experience if you simply walk in.

If you can't make it to the clinic for your appointment, please call us and cancel the visit so that we can give your appointment to another patient.

Bring your prescription medications and any over-the-counter medicines you are taking with you for each visit with your health care provider. This will permit us to determine if there are any potentially harmful conflicts among the various items in your medication therapy regimen, and it will allow us to see if the medications we prescribe for you are compatible with those you might be receiving from other health care providers.

Use the prescription refill line, 405-395-9035, to arrange for your refills. Call at least two business days before your supply of medications is exhausted. Leave your full name, the prescription number of the prescriptions you want refilled, and a phone number at which you can be reached. Your refills will be ready for you to pick up within 48 hours.

Please, fill out one of our Patient Questionnaires each time you visit the clinic. The questionnaire is a simple, fast way to critique our performance, and communicate any comments or suggestions you want to share with us. Bill Thorne, the Director of Health Services, and I read every questionnaire turned in by our patients. We pay close attention to every bit of patient feedback we receive — so let us hear from you.

Young Potawatomi Kidnapped, Found

By Tara Roberson, Stillwater NewsPress Staff Writer

The 10-year-old daughter of Citizen Potawatomi Nation member Tracey Weldon of Stillwater, Okla., was found by law enforcement officers on Thursday, May 15.

That was five days after she was reported missing. Shawnda Marie Cheney was found in a house in Pearland, Texas, south of Houston, with her alleged abductor Presley Earl Hood, 56, of Branson, Mo.

Cheney was transported to a hospital for tests. Hood was taken into custody shortly after 2 a.m. on May 15, on a federal kidnapping warrant.

Law enforcement officials from the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the Payne County, Okla., Sheriffs Office, the Stillwater Police Department and the Oklahoma State Bureau of Investigation held a press conference at SPD headquarters.

"She is in pretty good shape physically," Samuel Macaluso, assistant special agent in-charge of the FBI-Oklahoma City said. "She possibly has a little sunburn." Macaluso said Cheney was taken around 7:30 p.m. on Friday, May 9.

She was reported missing to the Payne County Sheriffs Office the following day. Shawnda left her home Friday night to walk to the nearby home of a friend, planning to spend the night, but never arrived. Macaluso said Cheney met Hood at a mutual friend's birthday party in February.

"Hood began taking Shawnda back and forth to Branson on the pretense of meeting talent scouts," he said.

"Recently, Cheney's mother told Hood Shawnda would no longer be allowed to make those trips with him."

Macaluso would not comment on whether Cheney appeared to be abused in any way. "She was immediately taken to a hospital and given a battery of examinations," he said. "It is too soon to tell."

When asked whether Cheney went with Hood willingly, Macaluso said he believed this was a predator case. "He gains sympathy from the victim and I think he manipulates them," he said.

Macaluso said Hood has a lengthy criminal history, but would not release details.

Cheney was taken home from Texas, accompanied by representatives from the victim/witness offices of the FBI in Houston and Oklahoma City.

During National American Indian Heritage Month, 10-year old fifth-grader Meagan Bruner, a tribal member, won Third Place in the Native American Art Contest sponsored by the Indian Education Program of the Shawnee Public Schools. There were 112 contestants total in all categories. Of those 112 entries, 44 were in the Division 2, third through fifth grade Miscellaneous Category.

Ms. Bruner attends Will Rogers Elementary School in Shawnee.

Citizen Potawatomi Nation TITLE VI Caregiver Program

This program's purpose is to provide a comprehensive referral and service system for families/individuals who are caregivers to elders who are chronically ill or who have a life-altering physical, mental or developmental disability. Services available include information about services, caregiver training, support groups, counseling, assistance to caregivers in gaining services, respite services, and supplemental services on a limited basis to complement care provided by caregivers (CPN Caregiver Program, Oasis, Advantage, Eldercare, private respite program, etc.).

This CPN Caregiver Respite Care program provides tribal members and their families an opportunity to take a break from their 24/7 responsibilities. The following requirements will assist in determining the eligibility of the caregiver:

1. You must be the full time caregiver;
2. You must be caring for an elder 55 or older who has a least two assisted daily living needs;
3. You must live within the CPN service area;
4. You or your family member must be a Citizen Potawatomi Nation tribal member.

Once these qualifications have been met, the caregiver will be instructed to do the following by the CPN Caregiver Program:

1. Interview and hire respite providers (recommended providers: family members, friends and neighbors, etc.)

Must be 18 or older;

2. Set an hourly daily or weekly schedule and rates;

3. If not a recommended provider, check references;

4. Training the provider on the specific needs of the care recipient.

The CPN Caregiver/Respite Program will provide services not to exceed six months. If the caregiver qualifies for the CPN Caregiver Program within the first two weeks, the program will assist him or her in applying for respite care through the ORRN (Oasis) which may take up to eight to ten weeks to qualify. Neither program will overlap service time.

While providing respite services through our program or the state of Oklahoma, we request that the caregiver attend the bi-weekly support group meetings for two hours in which the tribe, state or Replenishing the Caregiver programs will provide respite. The support group is open to the public.

If the tribal member or non-tribal member does not meet the CPN guidelines, we will assist you in applying with the state ORRN (Oasis) Program or other assistance program which offers the same benefits in every state. The state guidelines are all the same with the exception that the care recipient must be 60 years of age or older.

For more information contact the CPN Title VI caregiver program.

Grants for $2,125 Available to Members Wanting to Purchase or Refinance a Home

The Citizen Potawatomi Nation is helping make home ownership or refinancing to take advantage of low interest rates a viable option for tribal members for whom a down payment and/or closing costs represent an obstacle.

No matter where they live in the United States, Citizen Potawatomi tribal members are eligible for grants to help them pay closing costs and/or down payments to buy or refinance a home.

The grants are available with funding from a combination of sources. "This program has helped hundreds of tribal members," said Robert Carlile, Housing Authority director. "Any enrolled CPN member is eligible to receive this grant once."

The maximum amount is $2,125.00. Carlile said, "That amount is not to be repaid to the tribe nor is there a second mortgage placed on the homeowners property."

Eligibility requirements are: (1) the recipient must be purchasing, refinancing, or building a home. Mobile homes are not eligible; (2) the recipient must complete an application, submit a copy of his CPN membership card and proper financial documents from his lender, and list the name of the closing party; (3) because of lead based paint regulations, the home must have been built in 1978 or later, with verification provided; (4) the recipient must provide a copy of the Standard Flood Hazard Determination; (5) the recipient must request a grant that covers only "out-of-pocket" expenses; (if cash out refinancing, the grant check will be made out to the lender to be applied to the principal of the new loan); and (6) the recipient must submit an application within 30 days after loan closing.

"Processing time for grant applications is approximately two to three weeks," Carlile pointed out. "Checks are mailed to the address you put on the application unless other, prior arrangements have been made."

Anyone wanting an application can contact Sherry Byers at 405-878-4696 or at 800-227-8362, ext. 266.

Work on a new CPN Housing Authority home in Tecumseh is nearing completion. The home will be available for purchase by a CPN member.

2003 Election

What's on the ballot?

Citizen Potawatomi Nation tribal members with current addresses on file in the tribal rolls office have received Requests for Absentee Ballots in their mailboxes. The tribal government mailed some 15,700 absentee ballot request forms on May 14.

The request forms went to all tribal members who will be 18 no later than June 28 and, therefore, are eligible to vote in this election.

The Ballot Request Form, a postcard, can be returned simply by the tribal members providing the needed information and dropping it in the mail. Postage has been prepaid.

Any tribal member who still needs a ballot request form can find one on this page of the HowNiKan.

If a tribal member obtains an absentee ballot but decides then to vote in person in Shawnee on June 28, he can do so by retaining the absentee ballot and exchanging it for an in-person ballot on Election Day.

The tribe's members will make a choice in one race - that for Business Committee Position #2. Hilton L.

Melot of Tecumseh, Okla., the incumbent, and Jim Snow, a Lexington, Okla., business owner, filed for the position.

All three Grievance Committee positions will appear on the ballot, even though each race drew just one candidate. Kathy E. Pemberton of Oklahoma City, Tanya Peltier, a Shawnee resident, and Victor Allen Cope II of Tecumseh, director of the Native American Students program in the Tecumseh schools and a minister, were elected to two-year terms on the committee.

In accordance with the Citizen Potawatomi Nation election ordinance, Pemberton's, Peltier's, and Cope's names will appear on the ballot, accompanied by the designation "unopposed." On Election Day, they will "be deemed elected to that office."

Requests for absentee ballots must be returned to the Election Committee at P.O. Box 310, Tecumseh, OK 74873 no later than 20 days prior to the election, which is scheduled for Saturday, June 28, 2003. Thus, that deadline is June 8, 2003.

Absentee ballot requests may be written, printed, or typed. They must include the correct mailing address, roll number, and legal signature of the person making the request.

When voting by absentee ballot, a tribal member must mark his ballot, seal it in an inner envelope and ensure that the ballot "is timely delivered."

According to the election ordinance, "Only the outer envelope shall have the voter's name, return address, roll number and legal signature written upon it. Ballots will not be counted unless (a) legal signature is provided."

The polls will be open from 7 a.m. until 2 p.m. on June 28, the day of the General Council meeting. The polling place will be the Citizen Potawatomi Nation Courtroom, which is located in the CPN Engineering Building at 41601 Hardesty Road.

CITIZEN POTAWATOMI NATION

LETTER FROM THE CHAIRMAN

Bouzho, Nicon,

BE SURE TO MAIL BACK YOUR BALLOT REQUEST FORM!!

I want to thank Jim Snow for attending every Regional Council Meeting since he announced his candidacy for the Business Committee. The reason I scheduled all of the Regional Councils after the election filing period was to allow the voters who do not live around Shawnee to meet and talk to the candidates. Unfortunately, Hilton Melot has only attended one meeting, so there have been no "question and answer periods" or discussion of the issues. We desperately need to air the issues in this campaign. There are valid reasons why all three Executive Officers, Chairman John Barrett, Vice Chairman Linda Capps, and Secretary/Treasurer D. Wayne Trousdale, are supporting Jim Snow in the election.

Since Hilton Melot made the motion in one of last year's Business Committee Meetings and voted to give 40% of our gaming revenues for seven years (53% of the net) to a so-called contractor for financing we already had available, the people want to hear his explanation. I estimate we would have lost $15 million on the deal. That attempt will go down in tribal history, along with the 210,000 junk truck tires he had dumped in the middle of our golf course for three years, as nearly the worst decision ever made by a Business Committee.

It rivals the one in 1984 in which Leon Bruno's Business Committee voted to take only $120,000 per year as our minimum share of only 35% of the Bingo Hall earnings while the hall was making over $1,000,000 per year. Luckily we were able to overturn that horrible contract in Federal Court in 1987 after losing over $3,000,000 of tribal earnings. But he, his nephew, and a few supporters continue to express their hatred of me to this day. They are trying to start their own tribe called the "Sacred Heart Potawatomi."

I have heard questions from many of you about the criminal defamation charges that are being tried in Tribal Court against Hilton Melot and others. In the case of Hilton Melot, the criminal charge arose because he was found guilty in a civil case filed in Tribal Court on the same charge. Since the Constitution says, in Article 6, Section 2, that "the Chairman shall see that the laws of the Tribe are faithfully enforced," what choice do I have? If I ignore it, I am in violation of the Constitution.

Here is my problem: If I ask for criminal prosecution of Hilton Melot for a crime for which he has already been found guilty in a civil case, I then get accused by his supporters of politically motivated criminal prosecution. Either way, I look like the bad guy when, actually, I have no choice but to do what the Constitution says.

I believe the criminal defamation charges are why he filed for re-election. He wants to make the charges out to be "just politics." It almost has to be the reason, since he is long past making any viable contribution in his elected office in the tribe. Hilton Melot's bitterness against Mrs. Capps and me has colored every meeting he attends. He will not speak to me. He refuses to fly on the same airplane with us on Regional Council trips, and even demands to stay in a separate hotel. Sometimes we buy the tickets for him or J.P. Motley, and then they don't show up. I think it is time for this kind of foolishness to end. I believe his rancor over not getting to be the "Tribal Administrator" and de facto Chairman with Esther Lowden acting as his "figurehead" continues to motivate his behavior. I thank God it did not happen two years ago because his history of decisions for the tribe demonstrates that he is not qualified. But enough about that.

IT IS CELEBRATION TIME! EVERYBODY GET READY TO TRAVEL IN JUNE! Please know that we are really going all out to make this year's Family Reunion Festival a great new experience! We are adding more activities and facilities for both children and adults. We have finished paving new campgrounds for the campers with individual parking, camping and cooking facilities. Great improvements have been made in the RV Park. The Roundhouse will be the center of the reunion activities instead of the separate tents, but you will also still have some privacy for your family reunions. We will have a new large air conditioned pavilion building and are moving many of the activities into the main area of the Roundhouse and dance area to cut down on the "walks in the sunshine".

Please come and enjoy the new improvements and have a lot of fun with us - all you can eat and drink, dancing, sports, laughter and fun! Remember, you can bring anyone in your family, related by blood or marriage. Men, this is a great time to make your mother-in-law happy! Register ahead of time if you can. See you then. VOTE!

Chairman Barrett

Thank you for the many calls, cards, and letters since my little health scare. I am on the mend and I appreciate your concern. Your thoughts and prayers are a precious gift to me and I am humbled and grateful.

Megwetch,

John Barrett
